July 06, 2017 03:03 PM Eastern Daylight Time

NEW YORK, NY and THE WOODLANDS, Texas, USA (July 6, 2017) – Harmony, a publicly traded special purpose acquisition company, and NextDecade jointly announced that Harmony has filed a definitive proxy statement (Form DEFM14A) with the SEC on June 29, 2017. The definitive proxy statement provides detailed information regarding Harmony's planned merger (the "Merger") with NextDecade, an LNG development company focused on LNG export projects in the State of Texas. The definitive proxy statement also contains detailed information regarding NextDecade's commercial, engineering, regulatory, and gas supply strategies, competitive advantages, rationale for the Merger, and summary financial projections, among other information.

The special meeting of Harmony stockholders to consider the Merger will be held on July 24, 2017 at 11:00 a.m. Eastern Time. All stockholders of record of Harmony's common stock as of the close of business on June 29, 2017 will be entitled to vote their shares at the special meeting. The parties expect to consummate the Merger promptly after the meeting, subject to approval of Harmony's stockholders. Following the closing of the Merger, NextDecade will be a publicly listed company on the NASDAQ traded under the ticker symbol "NEXT".

NextDecade's first proposed LNG export facility, the RGLNG project located in Brownsville, Texas, is optimally located in close proximity to associated and stranded gas resources in the Permian Basin and Eagle Ford Shale. RGLNG and its associated Rio Bravo Pipeline ("RBPL"), originating in the Agua Dulce market area, are well-positioned among the second wave of U.S. LNG projects.
